WHEREAS, their shared achievement provides a special source of pride for the people of Shreveport and Caddo Parish, particularly the young students who may look to their example as evidence that one's geographic origins need never limit one's aspirations, opportunities, or capacity to achieve distinction; and

ADMINISTRATION REPORT

Administrator Bryant During the administrative report, Mrs. Bryant reiterated her congratulations to Mrs. Mills and invited questions from commissioners.

Mr. Epperson asked whether the Parish planned to provide food donations to those in need during the upcoming holiday season. Administrator Bryant stated that funds had not been appropriated but that she had received a request to place the matter on the next agenda. In response to Mr. Epperson, she confirmed that the request would potentially address both November and December.

COMMUNIQUES & COMMITTEE REPORTS

- Mr. Epperson discussed constituent concerns regarding property conditions at Settle Inn Village, a mobile home community off Cooks Road in Bethany. Assistant Parish Attorney Jernigan reported that she had consulted with Public Works and that the matter remained under review. A full report was not yet available.

Mr. Epperson explained that the Parish-maintained portion of Cooks Road ends before the community and expressed concern about deteriorating conditions, including a culvert that could potentially collapse during a major rainstorm. He asked whether management could be contacted about the situation. Staff indicated that such contact would be feasible and, in the residents', best interest. Mr. Epperson stated that he would continue pursuing the matter pending additional legal guidance.

Mr. Epperson reported receiving letters from six 11-year-old students in Ms. Ashley Johnson's Classical Conversations homeschool class, which meets at Oakmont Church of God across from Turner Elementary School. The students raised questions about road improvements, preservation of historic buildings such as the Strand Theatre, abandoned properties, water quality, litter, and recycling. He commended Ms. Johnson for encouraging civic engagement and stated that he would respond individually to each student.

Mr. Epperson announced a student poll worker initiative through Clerk of Court Mike Spence's office for the November 3 election and future elections. He stated that students from Huntington High School and Loyola College Prep had completed the same training as poll workers and would assist at polling locations. He expressed hope that the initiative would encourage future participation and help address poll worker shortages, with possible expansion to additional schools.

Mr. Epperson reminded attendees that the 16th annual Veterans Recognition Ceremony would be held November 13 at 5:00 p.m. at the LIVE! Casino Event Center, featuring retired U.S. Army Lieutenant General Russel Honoré as guest speaker. He stated that 11 veterans would be recognized for their military and community service and that the Distinguished Colonel Steven dePyssler Award would also be presented. The program would include a historical presentation on the Veterans Memorial Steering Committee and Colonel dePyssler's contributions. He also discussed efforts to seek a commemorative postage stamp honoring Colonel dePyssler.

Mr. Epperson announced that the 16th annual Veterans Parade would be held November 15 at 2:00 p.m. at the Louisiana State Fairgrounds, with 107-year-old veteran Mr. Sam Mattox serving as Grand Marshal. He reported that Mr. Mattox would also receive national recognition at an event at Andrews Air Force Base.

Mr. Epperson thanked Lieutenant Governor Billy Nungesser for donating more than 200 pounds of shrimp and catfish to be served to parade participants during staging on the west side of Independence Stadium. He invited marching groups, churches, fraternities, and other organizations to participate and provided contact information for parade registration.

- Mr. Thomas reminded citizens that early voting was underway and reported that 9,847 Caddo Parish voters had cast ballots as of that morning. He encouraged participation, noting that turnout figures would help support efforts to expand early voting locations. He also encouraged voters to review the proposed amendments and seek information before casting their ballots.

Mr. Thomas thanked Commissioner Gage-Watts for co-chairing the Walk to End Alzheimer's and invited Ms. Renee Matthews to provide a fundraising update. He announced a celebration scheduled for October 23 at 6:00 p.m. at The Seventh Tap, 2640 Linwood Avenue, Shreveport.

Ms. Matthews reported that the walk was held October 3 at Sheriff's Safety Town. She thanked the Parish and the Sheriff's Office for providing the venue and equipment, which helped reduce event expenses. She announced that fundraising had reached $88,540 toward a $90,000 goal, representing the highest amount raised at that point in the event's more than 20-year history in the Shreveport-Bossier community. She emphasized the organization's work to provide education, awareness, and support for individuals living with Alzheimer's disease and their caregivers.

Mr. Thomas commended Ms. Matthews and the volunteers for their efforts and encouraged commissioners and the public to contribute toward the established $90,000 goal and the co-chairs' additional goal of $100,000. He shared that his paternal grandmother was showing early signs of dementia and expressed his commitment to supporting efforts to find a cure. Ms. Matthews explained that donations could be made by check or through the Alzheimer's Association's Walk website by searching for the local event.

Mr. Thomas also announced an encore presentation of Beauty at the Ballot Box on October 23 at 7:00 p.m. at the LSUS University Center Theater. He explained that the play, written by Carolyn Jones Sullivan, highlighted the contributions of local hairstylists to the civil rights movement and voting rights efforts in Shreveport. He encouraged attendance and reiterated the importance of exercising the right to vote.

Mr. Thomas stated that early voting would continue through October 27, with Election Day on November 3 and runoff elections on December 12.

- Mrs. Gage-Watts thanked Commissioner Epperson for sharing information about the student election worker pilot program involving Loyola College Prep and Huntington High School's law class. She stated that she and Vice President Thomas had discussed the initiative with Clerk of Court Mike Spence and requested that the governmental liaison work closely with the Caddo Parish Youth Leadership Alliance to obtain its input and encourage participation.

Mrs. Gage-Watts reflected on the strong turnout for the Walk to End Alzheimer's and expressed appreciation for participants who walked in memory or support of loved ones affected by the disease. She thanked the Commission, Administration, staff, and others who contributed their time and financial support.

Mrs. Gage-Watts recognized Breast Cancer Awareness Month and Domestic Violence Awareness Month. She emphasized the importance of early detection and encouraged women to discuss screening with their physicians. She acknowledged survivors and honored families who had lost loved ones. She also described domestic violence as a public safety and community issue, encouraged those affected to seek assistance, and shared the National Domestic Violence Hotline number.

Mrs. Gage-Watts expressed support for the proposed Caddo Parish indoor sports complex, which would appear on the November 3 ballot. She described the proposal as a $60 million bond issue for more than 170,000 square feet of courts, family recreation space, and a sports medicine facility. She stated that the project originated in the Parish's Parks Master Plan and would be funded through the existing millage without a new tax.

Mrs. Gage-Watts discussed the potential benefits of the complex, including expanded recreational opportunities, youth development, job creation, and public safety through supervised activities. She noted that local families frequently travel to other communities for tournaments and expressed a desire to provide those opportunities locally. She also cited a Parish projection of approximately 136,000 overnight visits from out-of-town visitors over five years and encouraged residents to consider the project's potential benefits for children, neighborhoods, and the local economy.

- Mr. Jones expressed support for the proposed indoor sports complex and shared his experiences traveling throughout the South for his sons' participation in competitive baseball. He described the substantial costs associated with travel, lodging, and meals and emphasized the importance of providing local opportunities for families who cannot afford those expenses. He cited sports facilities in Ruston, Jonesboro, and Sterlington as examples of development he believed could also benefit Caddo Parish.

Mr. Jones discussed the complex's potential to support youth development, retain families, attract visitors, and create opportunities for local businesses. He stated that the Parish's existing entertainment options and lodging capacity would complement the proposed facility and help position the community to benefit from the youth sports industry. He noted that tournaments could provide additional customers for small businesses, including apparel vendors and food trucks.

Mr. Jones expressed confidence in Administration and those involved in developing the proposal, stating that he believed they were acting in the Parish's best interest. He also commended staff for maintaining Parish-owned parks and roads and described the proposed complex as an investment extending beyond traditional park facilities.

Mr. Jones encouraged commissioners and residents to evaluate the proposal based on its merits and maintain respectful dialogue regardless of their positions. He called for bipartisan cooperation, improved communication, and a willingness to listen to differing perspectives, emphasizing the shared responsibility to invest in children and advance Caddo Parish.

- Mr. Burrell reported that a meet-and-greet event was held October 21 in the Commission lobby with Ms. Africa, Community Outreach and Engagement Director for Amazon Web Services. He stated that the event provided local nonprofit organizations an opportunity to learn about available support from Amazon, which had already invested more than $500,000 in community nonprofits and planned to provide additional support.

- Mr. Thomas reminded residents of weatherization and utility assistance options available through SWEPCO as colder weather approached. He shared information received from a constituent about attic insulation assistance and encouraged residents to visit SWEPCO's website for details. He also mentioned utility assistance grants, payment arrangements, pay-as-you-go options, and average monthly payment plans, encouraging residents to explore available resources to help manage winter energy costs.

Mr. Thomas expressed appreciation for Commissioner Jones' remarks and encouraged a positive, unified approach to promoting Shreveport and Caddo Parish. He emphasized showcasing the community's strengths, working through differences, considering one another's concerns, and finding common ground to move projects forward. He expressed pride in serving alongside his colleagues and appreciation for residents who support their efforts.

- Mr. Jones congratulated his former youth sports player, Bryson Rashelle, on graduating from Navy basic training. He expressed pride in Mr. Rashelle's accomplishments and hoped to recognize him during a future visit home.

Mr. Jones reflected on his years of volunteer coaching and acknowledged Commissioner Kracman's involvement in coaching youth sports. He emphasized that coaching extends beyond athletics by teaching discipline, poise, perseverance, and other life lessons. He wished Mr. Rashelle continued success in his military career and encouraged him to remain connected to Caddo Parish.

- Mr. Burrell announced that a ribbon-cutting ceremony for the third Lighthouse Project would be held Sunday, November 8, at 1:30 p.m. at Galilee Baptist Church. He expressed appreciation for the project and noted its timely completion ahead of the cold season and potential weather-related disruptions.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

President G. Young requested clarification from Administration regarding public outreach, funding restrictions, and governmental responsibilities associated with the proposed indoor sports complex. Administrator Bryant confirmed that approximately 33 public meetings had been attended or conducted and that the Parish website included approximately 38 frequently asked questions. She stated that Administration had also responded to questions submitted directly by citizens and through commissioners.

President G. Young expressed concern about misinformation circulating on social media, particularly suggestions that the proposed bond proceeds could be redirected to address Shreveport infrastructure needs. Administrator Bryant explained that Caddo Parish and the City of Shreveport are separate governments with distinct responsibilities. She stated that the proposed $60 million bond issue would be dedicated to the sports complex and could not be redirected to unrelated projects. She further explained that rejection of the proposal would not leave $60 million available for other purposes.

Administrator Bryant stated that most Parish road and bridge funding comes from a dedicated sales tax whose voter-approved restrictions prohibit its use within Shreveport and Vivian, where that tax is not collected. She explained that unrestricted funds could support cooperative projects with other municipalities and cited previous assistance to Blanchard and Greenwood.

In response to questions about property taxes, Administrator Bryant explained that eligible property tax revenues could be used for projects within Shreveport, citing the overlay of Jefferson Paige Road as an example. She stated that the Public Works property tax millage generates approximately $6 million annually parishwide, an amount insufficient to substantially address Shreveport's infrastructure needs.

President G. Young also discussed differing opinions about where Parish projects should be located. Administrator Bryant explained that property taxes are assessed parishwide and support projects throughout Caddo Parish. She noted that the Commission considers projects in multiple areas because residents across the Parish contribute to their funding.

COMMUNIQUES & COMMITTEE REPORTS

- Mr. Thomas thanked President Young for requesting clarification about the sports complex and asked Administrator Bryant to explain the annual adoption of property tax millages. Administrator Bryant stated that voters authorize a maximum millage and that the Commission must adopt the rate annually. She explained that the proposed 1.5-mill rate would return for annual adoption and that Administration was not proposing an increase.

Administrator Bryant clarified that the approximately $6 million discussed earlier represented revenue from the Public Works millage rather than total Parish property tax collections. In response to Mr. Thomas, she stated that medical expenses at Caddo Correctional Center also total approximately $6 million annually.

Mr. Thomas discussed the Parish's obligation to fund mandated services while considering additional projects with limited resources. Administrator Bryant noted the Parish's financial responsibilities for the district attorney's office, district court, juvenile court, and other criminal justice expenses. She emphasized that discussions about cooperation with Shreveport should consider those responsibilities alongside municipal infrastructure needs.

Mr. Thomas stated that he had contacted state leaders about potential collaboration on other projects and emphasized the Commission's continued work on quality of life, economic development, public safety, and required services. He commended Parish departments for managing limited resources, discussed funding challenges affecting juvenile services and infrastructure, and reiterated his support for the sports complex as an economic development opportunity.

- Mr. Burrell announced that Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., would host a "Stroll to the Polls" event that Saturday at 8:00 a.m. Participants would gather in the Remington College parking lot across from Hamilton/South Caddo Branch Library before proceeding to the early voting location. He encouraged public participation and noted the fraternity's longstanding voter engagement program, "A Voteless People Is a Hopeless People."

CITIZENS COMMENTS (LATE ARRIVALS)

Michael Tarver came before the Commission and gave the following comment:

Good evening, you guys. I'm a little nervous talking in front of you guys, so have patience with me while I sort of destress. I wanted to come out here today to meet you guys. I'm sorry you guys, my name is Michael Tarver. I wanted to come out here because I don't know what our government looks like. You guys are doing so much work on, like, funding and getting roads built and regulations for things I never even heard of or never even thought about. And what I heard some of you speak about today is that there's misinformation online everywhere about what you're expected to do versus what you can actually do. And, I lost my train of thought. I was going to say I don't know how our government works. I came here to learn about that. Oh no, you guys. I'm so sorry. I had a really good point and I forgot what I was going to say. I completely forgot what I was going to say to you guys. But I've heard you guys speak very passionately today. I'm excited to see that we have so many capable people wanting to take care of and introduce, like, identify problems and take care of the people of Caddo Parish. It sucks to hear that there's, like, this conflict between Caddo Parish government and a separate body that exists for Shreveport government, but I guess that's just the way the government works. Is there anything specific I'm supposed to talk about? Because I'd love to just tell you guys about my life. I have a unique issue with government right now. I live in Blanchard, but I'm outside of Blanchard city limits. So, I called them because we're voting for mayor soon and they were like "No, you can't vote for mayor." And that really sucked. So, I have a Shreveport address and I called Shreveport, whoever. I called so many people in Shreveport, the mayor's office and a Shreveport commission of somebody. I don't know any of the different departments, but they said I'm also not in their district even though I have a Shreveport address. They said you can't vote for Shreveport mayor. So, I made it here because, are you guys elected officials, I'm so sorry. Were you all elected? Nice, I didn't vote in any of that. But I know now that I can vote for that stuff. I came here because you're like my closest elected officials that I can, like, speak to. I wanted you guys to know that I'm here, that I'm excited about building a better world. I worry about, you know, I'm terminally online, I'm online all the time. I see things in our federal government and in the world government that stresses me out. And that's not something that I think y'all are here to fix, but that is something I want y'all to be aware of that I've been bothered by. You know, there's war. We're all affected by that. There's crazy politics happening in Washington, D.C., that we're all worried about, that we're all paying attention to. And I'm excited to hear that y'all have issues that you want to address in Caddo Parish, and that y'all are here to take care of people like me. Anyway, thanks you guys. I appreciate it.

Lauren Anderson came before the Commission and gave the following comment:

I'm Lauren Anderson. I'm an attorney and I wasn't planning to speak today. I was actually planning to meet someone else. But then I remembered an idea that's been rattling around in my brain that I need to share with y'all. So, I'm a practicing attorney. I do criminal law. And I practice very frequently at the Caddo Parish District Court. And something that is glaringly obvious that I want to bring to everyone's attention is that the technology needs to be updated. The screens, like these screens, the computers and things that we use to play and share information such as, like, evidence, anything in discovery. Mostly videos is where I usually have a problem. But the tech is way outdated and this negatively impacts the defendants who need to present their case and basically get a fair trial. But I believe not only will it promote more fairness, it will also smooth out that docket so it can go faster. I'm a big fan of the rocket docket. Anything to streamline things and get things going faster while respecting people's rights. Of course, we don't sacrifice people's rights for efficiency. But better tech would be so handy, so useful. Like I said, smoother docket. It's going to promote fairness and I've heard taxes and revenue mentioned a lot. There's a lot of people, a lot of able-bodied working people sitting at CCC waiting on their court date. And if we can get a smoother, more streamlined docket, we can get those people out and back to participating in society, working and contributing to the tax base. So, the issue can, in theory, benefit everyone, working people, people who can work and have jobs contribute to the tax base. Lots of people not working at CCC and we could change that. Of course. I'm done. I don't need to talk, talk, talk. Thank y'all for listening.

There being no further business to come before the Commission, the meeting adjourned at 5:30 p.m.
