What Is Adderall and Why Is It Used?

Adderall is a prescription medication containing amphetamine and dextroamphetamine, which are central nervous system stimulants. It is primarily prescribed for:

- ADHD (Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder): Helps improve focus, attention, and impulse control.
- Narcolepsy: Reduces excessive daytime sleepiness and helps maintain alertness.

When used responsibly under proper guidance, Adderall can significantly improve productivity, concentration, and quality of life for those diagnosed with ADHD or narcolepsy.
